

1ST GALAXY FIREWORKS

offering complete firework solutions for event organisers and local authorities

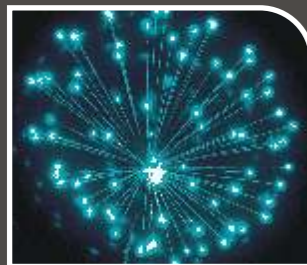

company profile

1st Galaxy Fireworks provides a fully comprehensive, personalised and integrated pyrotechnic service for all corporate event clients. With over 50 years combined experience we are able to bring a wealth of technology, knowledge and experience that few other companies can deliver. Using cutting edge computer controlled firing systems, the highest quality products and a team of dedicated professionals, we guarantee an unrivalled pyrotechnic experience.

health and safety

Our huge wealth of experience brings with it a 100% safety record. This has been attained by attention to detail, not only on-site but also behind the scenes. Our company is committed to all the aspects of Health and Safety including the provision of risk assessments, safe storage, transport and handling of fireworks. We offer £10 million pounds public & product liability cover as standard, and higher cover is available where required. Our Firework factory facility offers ideal working conditions, enabling us to construct the most complex displays in safety. All our display operators are fully trained professionals, dedicated to providing a spectacular and safe display for everyone. We are active members of the British Pyrotechnists Association and the British Fireworks Association.

firework display and event specialists

products

As a manufacturer and importer of Fireworks, we are able to offer our customers a huge range of exciting and original material manufactured exclusively for our use. This also gives us huge flexibility with our display content and ensures that we remain one of the UK's most competitive display companies. We guarantee quality through a continued product development programme, ensuring the highest levels of safety and performance.

world class service

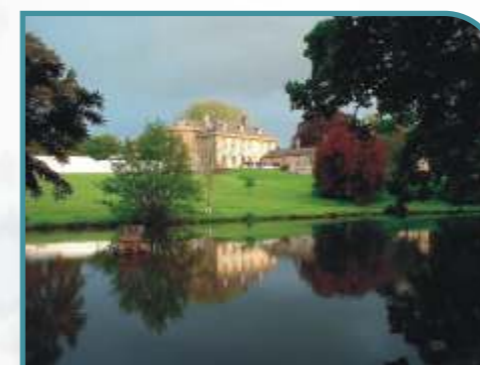

Bringing a wealth of creativity and enthusiasm is only part of our service, we are fully committed to delivering a professional and personalised service. We have forged strong links with many of our corporate clients and continue to work along side many other members of the entertainments industry. All displays are custom designed and tailored to meet the clients requirements.
